

BOOKWORMS: Author David Comber with illustrator Bernadette Restorick Charlotte Noakes, Oliver Parker and Dominic Frampton

Author reads to Kindergarten

AN AUTHOR from Goudhurst visited Horsmonden kindergarten and read stories to the children on World Book Day.

David Comber, who wrote the book Bog The Dog, visited the kindergarten in Back Lane, along with the book's illustrator Bernadette Restorick.

Victoria Parker, whose son Oliver is a pupil, helped organise the event. She said: "There were probably about 25 children there and they seemed to enjoy it. The guests read to them and explained a bit about what they do."

The duo also donated copies of their book to Horsmonden Library.

Mrs Parker added: "It was nice of them to give up some of their time and they seemed really keen in encouraging the youngsters to read. As well as linking in with World Book Day, we were also linking in to the campaign to stop the village library from closing."
